Self-Control

Choosing to do what is right, even when I don't feel like it.

I will...

Think before I act.

Control my temper.

Respect others and their belongings.

Sit still and be quiet.

Build healthy habits.

Be still before the Lord and wait patiently for him... (Psa 37:7a)

There are many things in this world that are uncertain. 14 years ago, about this time, many people were getting ready to leave on a trip. Business men in New York went about business as usual, and our military leaders conducted business as usual behind the security of the walls of the Pentagon. Little did they know that Tuesday, September 11, would change their lives forever. As so it is with all sudden tragedies.

The Bible tells us that we should always be ready to always being prepared to make a defense to anyone who asks you for a reason for the hope that is in you; yet do it with gentleness and respect. We need to be ready to react to evil, and to do so with the Gospel of Jesus Christ. 14 years ago, our country was filled with fear and hatred. People were hurt, scared, and church attendance soared. God used that event to bring people back to him. (My father-in-law was one of them.) When the next unforeseen tragedy strikes, will you be ready to give an answer to those who ask, "Where is God?"

He is in my heart, and I am not troubled in times such as these, because I know that He will take evil and make good. He will turn my mourning into dancing. He will loose my sackcloth and clothe me with gladness. He will encompass me with His love, and He wants to do the same for you.

Do not think God is evil because He does not restrain evil men. Think of God as good because He already give His life for yours.
