Wisdom

Applying truth to my daily decisions.

I WILL ...

Listen to my parents and teachers.

Learn from mistakes.

Choose my friends carefully.

Consider the consequences.

Ask "What is the right thing to do?"

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge; fools despise wisdom and instruction.

(Proverbs 1:7)

What's for Hot Lunch?

Fri: Sandwiches & Chips

Mon: Pulled Chicken Sandwiches

Tue: Burgers & Chips

Wed: Chicken Patty Sandwich

The week of May 7th-11th is Teacher Appreciation Week. I know each teacher would love to know that you respect and value them. Here is a list of 7 reasons why we should respect and value our teachers.

1. They respect you and value your opinions and the knowledge you have of your children.
2. They are there to help your child learn. They will take the time to discover your child's style of learning.
3. They care about you and your children. They want God's best for you and your family.
4. They help your child succeed.
5. They cannot control everything. For example, when the school email and phone systems are down.
6. They have to deal with a lot of stuff. Thank you for remembering they have a personal life too and have to balance home and work life as you do.
7. They give up a lot for your child. Teachers are some of the hardest workers I know.

Here are some ideas of how you could encourage our teachers during Teacher Appreciation Week!

- ★ Put a handwritten note in a teacher's mailbox or in your child's assignment book
- ★ Choose a trinket that reflects an interest or hobby of the teacher
- ★ Gift a school supply or tool that a teacher mentions or you notice might be needed
- ★ Deliver favorite foods or drinks to these teachers

If you would like more ideas, we have a list in the office that has each teachers' "favorites." You'll find all kinds of ideas from favorite drinks to favorite candy etc. Please join me in celebrating our teachers the week of May 5th-9th.

Blessings
